Four National Guard units being mobilized

NASHVILLE – Four units of the Tennessee Army National Guard, officially on Alert status for a number of weeks, have now received mobilization orders to deploy during the next two months in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

The four are Military Police units from Dyersburg, Dickson, Waverly and Murfreesboro. They are:

- Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 168th MP Battalion, in Dyersburg. The 100 soldiers from Dyer County are scheduled to mobilize on Oct. 22 and depart October 25 for Ft. Dix, New Jersey.
- The 267th Military Police Headquarters unit in Dickson and the 267th's Detachment 1 in Waverly, representing 170 soldiers. They are to report to their respective armories on Nov. 7 and leave for Ft. Dix on Nov. 11.
- Murfreesboro's 269th MP Company. Its 170 soldiers are scheduled to report to their armory in Rutherford County on Nov. 12 and leave for Ft. Dix Nov. 15.

Each of the four Tennessee units will remain at Ft. Dix for a short but unspecified period of time before deploying to their destinations in Iraq.

These mobilizations bring to almost 13,500 the number of Tennessee Army and Air Guard deployed in the Global War on Terrorism since Sept. 11, 2001.
